

TASTER: Training Attention Switching for Temper Episode Reduction

- We know people with PWS have difficulties with a brain process called task switching
- We want to develop a computer game to train task switching
- In future we hope this will help people with PWS to show less behaviours like temper outbursts
- We are looking for children with PWS who:
  - ⇒ are aged between 8 and 15
  - ⇒ often get upset when things change in their routines or plans

Please let us know if you are interested and would like more information
